We can choose our future.

Our most shocking results are that the American people are very interested in changing or replacing Constitution (Fig. 6). We saw that participants were also interested in taking things a step further by indicating that they strongly believe that a new government is needed now more than ever (Fig. 7).

The Democrats and the Republicans have told us all our lives that we live in the world's strongest and most functional democracy. The events of our day-to-day lives, and the results of these surveys, show that more and more people are realizing that this is a lie: We do not live in the American Dream, but instead the American Nightmare. People are prepared and ready to accept the knowledge that we live in an oligarchy. Only radical change will solve the issues that face us today (Fig. 8).

Working-class and oppressed people of the United States:
You are not alone!
We are in uncertain times, but we also have more potential than ever before.
