Who are the people in this time in your life
who deeply support you? Believe in you?
Give you their love?
Imagine their faces in this moment.
Their presence...
To just stop and reflect on everything that makes us and supports us.
That makes us possible.
We celebrate interdependence.
We become the activity of creation itself.
Infinite conditions. Mutually co-arising. In a great symphony of life. Of love. Of light.
